

North Carolina Central University

Position Description: Tenure-Track, Twelve (12) month, Assistant/Associate Professor, Department of Special Education, Visual Impairment Training Program, Position #10201 Account #2-01988-1310

Anticipated Start Date: August 2009

Application Deadline: Until Filled (Interview process will begin May 1, 2009)

Qualifications: Candidates for this position should have an earned doctorate in Special Education or a related field with primary specialization in visual impairment. Experience and research interests in the expanded core curriculum areas for students with visual impairment are required. The candidate must have a valid teaching license in visual impairment or be eligible to receive one. ACVREP Certification in at least one other area (Orientation and Mobility, Vision Rehabilitation Therapy, Low Vision Rehabilitation) is desirable. Applicants should have demonstrated potential for scholarly publication and successful teaching at the university level. Preference will be given to applicants committed to preparing teachers for culturally diverse populations, and with expertise and teaching experience with K-12 special education students with visual impairments.

Responsibilities: The successful candidate will teach graduate courses and contribute to the overall instructional quality of the academic program. The faculty member will be expected to coordinate and manage the concentration in visual impairment, including assisting with recruitment of and advising and mentoring graduate students, to participate in college, university and community service, communicate with stakeholders in the Visual Impairment Training Program, and maintain an active program of scholarship and service that is relevant to the practical problems and issues of students with visual impairments, their teachers, and the schools.

Application Procedures: Interested applicants should send a letter of application, vita, names, addresses and phone numbers of three references, official transcript, and a recent publication or writing sample to:
